EDITORS' MESSAGE

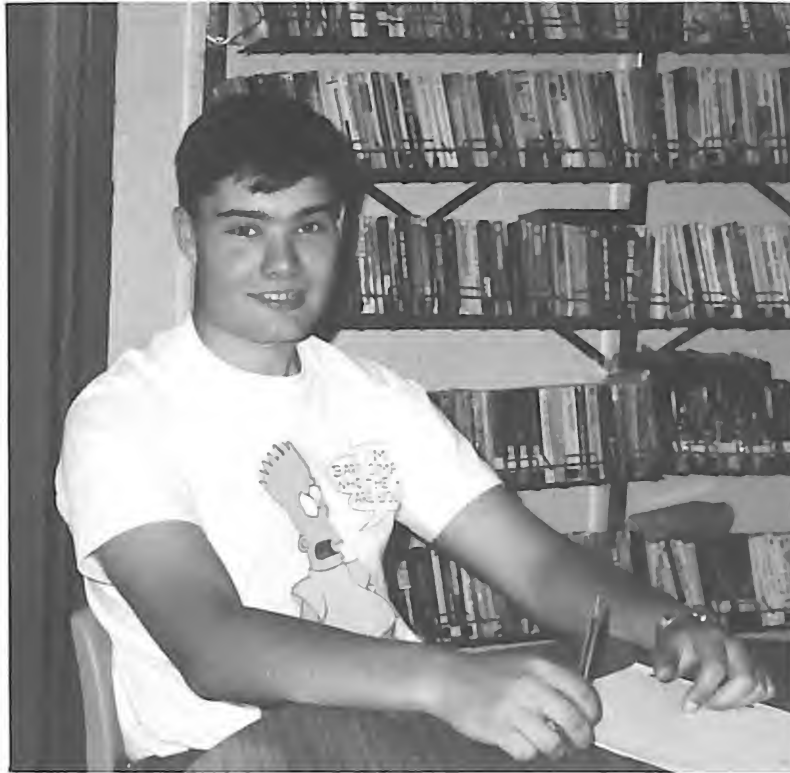

It is almost impossible to believe that five years have passed so quickly since we started grade nine, feeling so timid and unsure of ourselves. In this our fifth yearbook we bring to a close a chapter of our lives.

This yearbook is a chronicle of all our accomplishments, social activities and frivolities.

As we pass our duties onto a new yearbook staff, we wish them the best of luck. We would also like to take this opportunity to express our deepest thanks to Mr. Burke for his assistance in providing the yearbook club with the many pictures taken for the "Eagle Press". We also appreciate the support and concern of Mr. Sturdy, Mrs. Fenner and Mr. Jensen.

Best Wishes,
Jennie & Marcie

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

SAC President - Brian Anderson

With the passing of another year comes the memories of good times with friends and peers, and the visions of new horizons. Now, as the school year of 1989-90 becomes a part of that collection of memories we can look back with satisfaction.

The past year for the Student Council has been a year of rebuilding with implementation of the revised House System and the new and fresh concepts behind events such as the April Fool's Week. However, although the past year has been one of determination it has too seen frustrations.

It was my pleasure to serve as President of the Student Affairs Council for the past year. Within my term I learned to listen and to work with you my peers, the always faithful staff advisors, the administration, and the staff of NLSS; to all of you I say thank you. I learned to set your goals with the will of determination.

It is with this determination I wish the best to the incoming executive, to all of the staff and students remaining at, or moving beyond NLSS in all your future endeavours.

Respectfully yours,

Brian Anderson

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Mr. Martin Weber

Thanks a million to the yearbook staff for another memory-filled edition of the NLSS yearbook. I would like to especially recognize Jennifer Bumstead and Marcie Donald for all of their time and effort over the past few years in making sure that the yearbook was published each year. With their graduation, they will be sorely missed by the yearbook staff.

The student body at NLSS is a good student body. The caring and appreciative attitude of the students is beyond reproach and cannot be found in most other schools. You are to be commended for this and encouraged to keep this feeling alive. It is this feeling that makes NLSS unique amongst all of the other schools.

When you look at this book, many years in the future, it will bring back many memories. The greatest of these memories would be if you could relate to the feeling that you cared and showed it by your actions.

May your hard work lead to many successes in the future.

CANDIDS

With each passing year, the demand by Aurea Vincula readers for more candid increases. As each of you seems to have an insatiable appetite for this type of picture, we should maybe pause to define the word "candid".

A candid picture is one that is honest, open, unreserved and impartial. Hopefully these characteristics have been captured on the pages to follow and hopefully your hunger will be gratified!

THE YEAR IN ACTION

THE YEAR IN ACTION

The 1989-90 school year began with its usual event, "Grade Nine Orientation." Minor Niners, as they are affectionately referred to, were dragged out of their classrooms down to the gymnasium. They were forced into competing in various "ice-breaking" events such as a relay, a neck the orange contest, and the annual scavenger hunt. Fortunately, the social calendar had a new twist. In room 214, early one morning, the staff held a "Student-Teacher Breakfast." The purpose was to improve the relations between the staff and students, but secretly they were using free food as an incentive for those students who have a tough time getting up in the morning. Not a bad idea!

MORE OF THE YEAR IN ACTION

The fall of 1989 marked the beginning of the "Great Milk Race". Twenty-seven schools from Lambton County and surrounding area were involved in the competition to see whose milk consumption would increase most. North Lambton placed sixth overall with a 95% increase!

Shown below are just a few of the activities designed to promote the contest.

Across the page are pictures of the "Dance for Heart" week, sponsored by the Class of '90.

THE YEAR IN ACTION

Friday, December 15 marked the evening of the Christmas semi-formal. The cafeteria was beautifully decorated with trees, lights, and traditional mistletoe. Special thanks go to Brian Anderson, Randy Gilliard, and Jarett Kobe for their tireless decorating efforts.

The dance played host to a very special guest - Santa Claus, also known to the student body as Gus Protopapas. With his assistants Lisa and Amberwinkle, he managed to distribute candy canes to all of the not-so-good little boys and girls. The Mr. and Mrs. Christmas Contest results closed the evening. The winners were Monique Vankessel and Randy Gilliard.

THE YEAR IN ACTION

Electric Youth was a two night talent show organized by Lisa Lester and Amber Alpaugh. Performances ranged from piano solos to gymnastics routines to a jazz set.

DO NICE GIRLS DANCE THE LAMBADA?

★ Called "safe sex for the '90s," dancing the Lambada is the quickest turn-on next to the word "Yes." The "Kamasutra of dancing" can be practised in all its nitty-gritty glory with World Beat (Epic/CBS), a kind of Euro-trash discorama by the Paris-based group Kaoma that's full of fizzy pop Latin. Included in this 10-tune collection is the original song, Lambada, which touched this pseudocraze off in the first place. As a dance, the Lambada couldn't be more basic—it's straddle your partner's knee, twirl and try to keep calm. As a craze, it's been a bit more complex. A brainchild of a pair of French record producers, Jean Karakos and Olivier Lorscheid, it may or may not be authentically Brazilian. It certainly is authentically brazen.

Berlin citizens from both sides of what once was an Iron Curtain look on as huge power shovels knock down one of the last sections of the 29-year-old Berlin Wall. The demolition is to be completed by July 2 when the two German states merge their economies in a giant step toward full union. One section of the wall will remain as a memorial to those killed trying to escape to the West during the dark years of the Cold War.

TRUMP TO GET $60 MILLION IN LOANS

NEW YORK — Donald Trump will get $60 million (U.S.) in new loans and some needed breathing room to shore up his real estate and casino empire under a tentative deal struck with his bankers. The proposal, which was worked out over the weekend, will allow Trump to suspend interest payments on $2 billion US in outstanding debt, sources familiar with the deal said Monday. In exchange, Trump has pledged as collateral some of his remaining real estate and casino assets that aren't otherwise committed to secure loans. Those assets include the Trump Plaza Hotel in Atlantic City, N.J., and the Trump Tower building in Manhattan, the source said.

FASHION SHOW 1990

In the celebration of spring, the Class of '90 sponsored the annual fashion show. Clothes were borrowed from Lambton Mall merchants and Forest stores.

THIS IS THE PLACE

FOR A SMILING FACE

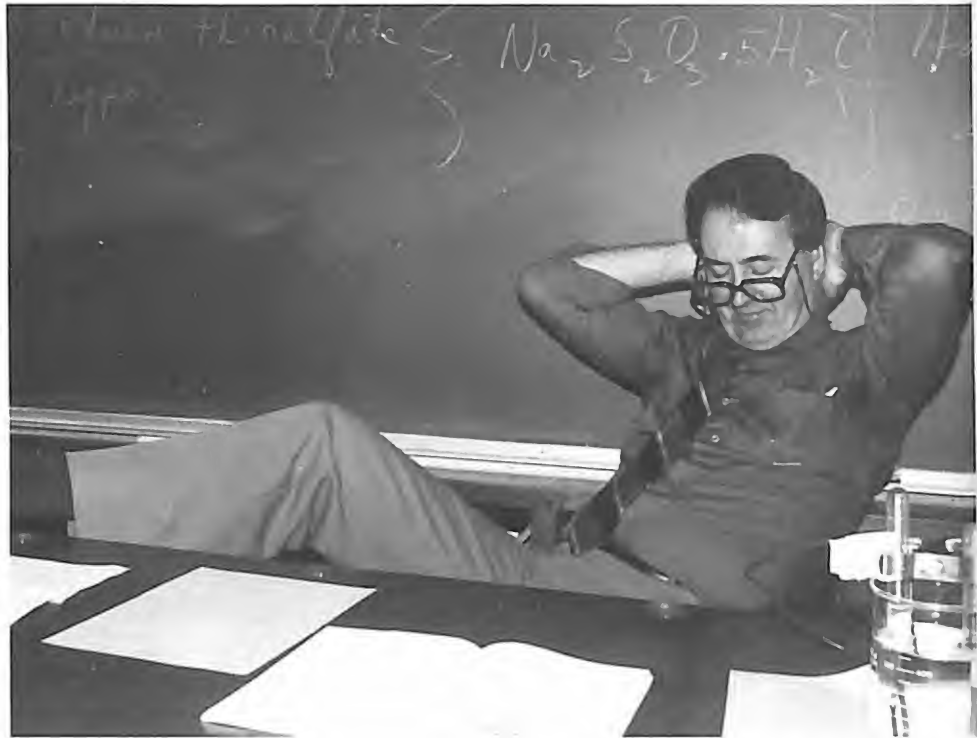

FOOL'S GALLERY

PHANTASMA

It was a dark and scary night for the audience assembled in the cafetorium on November 23rd. The entertainment for this, NLSS's Third Annual Dinner Theatre, was Phantasma; an adaptation of the highly acclaimed Phantom of the Opera. After the meal was served, spectators were presented with fare of a different nature. Mrs. Woodcock's Drama class held the audience spellbound with their excellent performance, while Mr. William's Concert Choir and Small ensemble Choir provided the eerie and moving music. Thank yous are in order for the custodial and cafeteria staff, as well as all those who helped with technical aspects. Congratulations to the Drama and Music departments, all of their hard work was rewarded with this entertaining performance.

COUNTRY HICKS VISIT BIG CITY

On the rainy morning of Thursday, May 10, soggy band and choir members loaded their luggage for a three day stay in Toronto. The trip began with a performance at a Toronto high school and a few hours of shopping in Square One. The day ended with a visit to the Pantages Theatre for the amazing "Phantom of the Opera".

The following morning was spent locating the Toronto Stock Exchange (nobody told us they moved from Bay Street!) for a slide show and explanation of procedures at the Exchange. The remainder of the day was spent c-d shopping by many and "touring" by others. The evening was spent at "His Majesty's Feast" in the spirit of 16th century England.

Toronto's Metro Zoo was the final destination before returning to NLSS. Everyone seemed to enjoy the trip but it is thought by some that, "That Phantom is good, but he's no Bart Simpson!"

DESTINATION UNKNOWN

The spring air was alive with excitement on the evening of May 26th. After weeks of preparation and meticulous planning, the students of NLSS dressed in their finest and enjoyed a never to be forgotten event; the Prom of 1990. This year's theme was "Destination Unknown"; and the decorations served to illustrate this ideal; clouds and balloons festooned the cafetorium. Although those in attendance may not have known where they were headed, it is safe to assume that all had fun along the way.

A DEDICATION

This poem by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow is dedicated in memory of Mr. Douglas McCaw-Librarian/English teacher.

Mr. McCaw is fondly remembered and will be truly missed by the students of N.L.S.S.

*As a fond mother, when the day is o'er
Leads by the hand her little child to bed,
Half willing, half reluctant to be led,
And leave his broken playthings on the floor,
Still gazing at them through the open door,
Nor wholly reassured and comforted
By promises of others in their stead,
Which, though more splendid, may not please
him more;
So Nature deals with us, and takes away
Our playthings one by one, and by the hand
Leads us to rest so gently, that we go
Scarce knowing if we wish to go or stay,
Being too full of sleep to understand
How far the unknown transcends the what we know.*

APRIL FOOL'S WEEK

April Fool's Day gave SAC the perfect opportunity to promote school spirit, and students a chance to settle a few scores with teachers. SAC stretched the day into a week and challenged students to create a practical joke among their home base to play on their home base teacher.

As well as practical jokes, there were Mancala tournaments, basketball games, "Inside-Out and Backwards Day" and other wacky activities. House points were accumulated throughout the week and on Friday, April 6 trophies were awarded during the evening at a dance.

Pygmalion

As the Drama department proved during second semester, the George Bernard Shaw classic, Pygmalion, has nothing to do with swine. Months of preparation paid off as the group delivered a moving performance. Improved ticket sales showed that the school and local communities realize the wealth of talent residing at NLSS.

Moga Madness

May 31st was the day, and MOGA MADNESS was the Most Outrageous Group Activity. This event was the amazing conclusion to five days of fun known as "Fitness Week".

Each team was composed of 10 people, 5 girls and 5 guys. They were required to complete a challenging relay of events that included water balloons, egg tosses, and much, much more!

Hi!

For those who don't know me, my name is Anick. I'm the exchange student from Quebec.

I've had a wonderful time here, made a lot of friends and had lots of fun. I liked N.L.S.S. not because it's big but because you are very friendly.

Learning English here was more fun than in my English class in Berthier.

I'll always remember this great memory. This is a hard place to forget and I think I will come back sometime.

Hope to see you again,

Miss you all!

"We're Working for You"

SHOULD OLD ACQUAINTANCE . . .

The halls of NLSS will be immeasurably safer next year. The menace of Mr. Gilfoyle will no longer mow down hapless students as he speeds around corners. Instead, LCCVI staff and students will be forced to cope with his boundless energy.

Not only will the hallways be safer next year, but they will also be quieter. Irrepressible Mr. Burke heads for new challenges at a private London high school. The airways will be silenced as well when our beloved principal, Mr. Weber, retires to a less hectic life far from the pressure of secondary school administration.

Though his career at North Lambton was short lived, Mr. Spears leaves a strong impression behind as he too leaves our school. Goodbye and good luck to them all.
